

Pacific Northwest and West

Known for salmon, shellfish and other fresh seafood.

Other meats include moose, elk and caribou.

They also grow fruits such as grapes. Potatoes are grown well in this region.

Midwest

Known for corn being a major crop. They also grow wheat and soybeans.

This area is known as "America's Heartland"

Beef, pork and poultry are produced in many of these states.

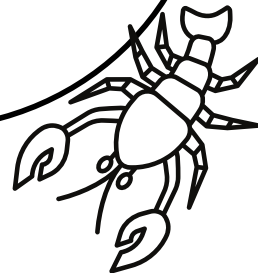

Northeast and Mid-Atlantic

This region produces berries such as blueberries and cranberries.

Known for tomatoes and peppers. Lots of types of seafood, including lobster and crabs.

Dairy farms also populate the region.

Southwest

This region also grows a lot of corn and pecans. Cantaloupes & avocados grow well in this region.

This region is also known for growing beans.

Squash is known as the "American Southwest Food"

Foods Across America

The South

Known for peaches and citrus fruits.

Some farmers produce rice, cotton and peanuts.

Sweet potatoes are a major crop in this region.

Pecans grow well in this climate.

